At this point, I am pretty much wide open. I'm only busy some Thursday afternoons. Bruce may have other obligations.

How about touching base sometime in mid-to-late April? Or after Dennis registers and tries out our EPICLA online environment and have further questions on our Base Application process.

Just got your call - I get an email alert with a video clip when you call my work number - which is a good thing since im not in the office. Confirming for 11 am.

Sorry about the interpreter relaying the call - she shouldn't be working like that.
