The City of Inglewood has approved the project, which will include a world-class basketball arena, practice facility and team offices for the L.A. Clippers. The arena will be built on the site of the former Inglewood Coliseum. The project is expected to be completed in 2013. The arena will be the largest in the world and will be a major attraction for the city. The arena will be built on the site of the former Inglewood Coliseum. ### Opinion: Can Working Parents Still Teach Their Kids at Home?

Working parents face a difficult choice when it comes to their children's education. They must decide whether to send their children to school or to teach them at home. While home schooling has become more popular in recent years, it is still a controversial issue. Many parents who choose to home school their children face challenges such as finding qualified teachers and ensuring that their children receive a quality education. However, for some parents, home schooling is the best option for their children's education.
