The Los Angeles Clippers announced today that the city of Inglewood has approved the construction of a new arena and practice facility. The arena will be located on the site of the former Inglewood Coliseum. The arena will be a state-of-the-art facility that will provide a world-class basketball arena, practice facility and team offices for the L.A. Clippers. The arena will be a multi-use facility that will also provide a venue for other events. The arena will be a major addition to the city of Inglewood and will provide a new landmark for the city.

Opinion: Can Working Parents Still Teach Their Kids at Home?

As parents, we want the best for our children. We want them to be successful and to have a bright future. One of the best ways to ensure that is by providing them with a quality education. However, with the demands of a modern workforce, it is becoming increasingly difficult for parents to provide a quality education for their children. This is especially true for parents who are working long hours. Can working parents still teach their kids at home? This is a question that many parents are asking. The answer is not a simple one. It depends on the parent and the child. Some parents are able to find ways to balance work and family life, while others are not. It is important for parents to evaluate their own situation and to make the best decision for their children.
